EXPERIENCE

Programmer Intern

Wilo Group

07/2023 - 6/2024 Wilo Group

•I led the development of a live condition monitoring system using embedded systems, ensuring seamless real-time monitoring of critical parameters.
•This involved designing and implementing embedded software, integrating sensors, and optimizing data transmission for efficient performance.
•The project showcased my ability to create innovative solutions for continuous monitoring in dynamic environments.

Project Intern

Tata Consultancy Services

07/2023 - 09/2023 Pune, Maharashtra, India

•Managed the Forecasting System project, which involved the analysis of historical data and the development of predictive models to forecast retail product demand.
•Managed the entire project life cycle, from data collection to implementation, utilizing tools like Python and data visualization for effective inventory optimization.
•The project's success contributed significantly to improving customer satisfaction and operational efficiency within the retail domain."
